

Melbourne's Leading Nanny Agency

Once upon a time in 1999 an enthusiastic mother & daughter team dreamt of opening a Super Nanny & Cleaning Agency in leafy Armadale. Little did Annie Sargood & her mother Chris imagine, that the ensuing 11 years would be such a fun & fast ride. Annie signed up the first Client whilst sitting up in bed in the hospital maternity ward after giving birth to her 1st child Lachlan now almost 12 years old. At first the business was run out of Chris's little terrace house until it just burst at the seams. Annie insisted on sourcing a larger office in Glenferrie Road right when her 2nd child Jessica, now 10 years, was due. They soon out grew that office & to Chris's dismay, Annie chose to move office again right when both she & Chris were also moving house to Bayside Brighton. Talk about a logistical nightmare. And here they go again!!!! Formally known as "Armadale Sitters" they are now changing their business name to "Melbourne's Leading Nanny Agency" & guess what, YES whilst Annie is pregnant & expecting in January 2011. What gluttons for punishment, Chris is starting to think about retirement!!! Armadale Sitters now known as "MELBOURNE'S LEADING NANNY AGENCY" has earned its new name by leading the way in the industry. 8 super duper women run the office, interviewing, reference checking & guiding experienced & junior carers to help families maintain a happy, healthy work life balance.
